

Operating Systems and Process Scheduling.

Process Control Block: A data structure maintaining process execution context.

Preemptive Scheduling: CPU allocates time slices to ensure multi-tasking responsiveness.

Throughput = Completed Processes / Total Elapsed Time